Apprenticeships

Your questions answered

What is an apprenticeship?

An apprenticeship combines employment and education. It involves working in a real job, gaining practical experience alongside time away from work to study for a qualification. Plus, apprentices earn a highly competitive salary throughout.

Who can apply?

Anyone over 16 with bags of enthusiasm and a love of learning. We've worked hard to make every stage of application fair and inclusive. So, applicants can trust they're being seen for their skills, strengths and motivation – nothing more, nothing less.

What is involved in the application process?

Tests. Interviews. Assessment centres. It might sound scary – but our process is designed to bring out the best in people, not put them under pressure. We keep in touch so candidates feel supported and able to show off their strengths. We have advisors on hand every day. And we can organise web chats to answer any questions you might have.

What happens at the end of my apprenticeship?

One of the great things about apprenticeships is that you also spend time each week studying towards a nationally recognised qualification and all our apprenticeships lead to permanent roles on completion of the scheme.
